COVID-19 - Travelling during COVID-19 PLEASE READ

As travel begins to return it is important that you check the latest requirements and restrictions, mindful that different countries and companies apply different policies. To assist you in this task American Express Global Business Travel (GBT) have set up a tool known as 'Travel Vitals' that provides the latest advice for both domestic and international travel. The new tool is available on a single website - Travel VitalsTM - <https://travelvitals.amexgbt.com/> accessible using Google Chrome.

Travel Vitals contains information about immigration restrictions, safety protocols, inflight food and beverage service and other areas. Users get information tailored to their trips by entering their origins, destinations and airlines. The site pulls in data from sources including governments, airports, risk management firms and travel suppliers - please note that should you contact the GBT team you may be charged.

Please note that although this gives consumer facing advice on industry and government announcements it does not substitute your departmental specific guidance and policies so please ensure that you follow all local guidance.

Up to £10.00 administration fee will apply and the amount of the refund will take into account any use you have made of the ticket and in some circumstances no refund will be paid. You can change the time of your outward journey and the date and time of your return journey without changing your tickets. If you wish to change your date of travel or Class of ticket, you will need to buy a new ticket and apply for a refund on your current ticket. Yes - normal railcard and child discounts available. Break of journey is permitted on the return direction of Off-Peak tickets, and is generally permitted on the outward direction unless prohibited for the journey that you are making. If you intend to break your outward journey, please contact us to check if it is permitted. You can always break your journey where necessary to change train.
